

FG Reduces JAMB Application Fee

The Federal Government has cut down the registration fee for the Unified Tertiary Matriculation Examination (UTME) organised by the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB).

The fee reduced from N5,000 to N3,500 only was to lessen the burden of examination costs on parents. The new examination fee regime would take effect from 2019/2020 session.

The Federal Executive Council (FEC) endorsed the reduction in an announcement made by the Education Minister, Mal. Adamu Adamu, which also included the reduction of the examination fees for National Examinations Council (NECO) and Basic Education Certificate (BECE).

The reduction is part of President Muhammadu Buhari's determination to alleviate poverty and ensure that every Nigerian desirous of tertiary education is not deprived this opportunity.

JAMB has in less than two years shown commitment to the avowed intention of the President Buhari-led administration by returning over N15 billion to the national coffers. The Minister disclosed that government had deliberated extensively on how to ensure that every Nigerian benefitted from the prudent management of resources in JAMB and thereby came up with the fee reduction.

The Board has been charged to sustain its hallmark of inclusiveness, transparency, accountability and the enviable position it is occupying amongst global examination bodies.

The Minister said, "Since the new administration came into office and a change in management as well as prudent management by JAMB, we have been able to see that most of the

Today, we live in a world where information is crucial to the attainment of organizational objectives. That we live in the "information Age" or, according to the former US Vice President, Al Gore, the age of "information superhighway" accentuates the centrality of providing information through which empowerment happens. After all, it is a well-known aphorism that information is power.

For information to be well distilled, there must be effective communication which is the live wire of every organisation. Communication engenders understanding whereas non-communication breeds rumour-mongering and tale-bearing, which are inimical to the realisation of corporate goals.

It is in the light of the foregoing that the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) under the transformational leadership of the Registrar, Prof. Is-haq O. Oloyede, OFR, FNAL, is keen about enhancing all channels of communication and building solid bridges with all stakeholders.

Therefore, beginning from the first week of this year 2019, JAMBULLETIN, a publication of the Office of the Registrar, will be published every Monday with a view to keeping staff and stakeholders abreast of the programmes, policies and projects of the Board. This will undoubtedly serve as a fountain from which millions of candidates, parents and other important stakeholders in the business of the Board may obtain nourishment and satisfy their thirst for regular information.

Apart from current news and analyses as they unfold, JAMBULLETIN would also document and share the weekly income and expenditure details of the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board, as well as decisions reached at meetings and other engagements of the Board. JAMBULLETIN promises to be informative, educative and authoritative, an important resource for knowing more of JAMB on a weekly basis.

Copies of JAMBULLETIN will be available in hard and electronic versions. It is our hope that those who do not receive the hard copies would visit the official website of the Board at www.jamb.gov.ng every week for fresh editions of the newsletter.

As we bid farewell to 2018, I welcome you to the new year of 2019 with a new JAMB, more determined than before to serve Nigeria with dedication, determination, accountability, truth and transparency as personified by the leadership of the Board, which will not rest on its oars this year and the years ahead in ensuring quality service delivery and providing adequate information in that regard.

JAMBULLETIN promises to be promising. Every Monday. As from today. Keep a date.

Happy reading and happy New Year.

fees charged were uncalled for because a lot of it were siphoned by corrupt officials.

"So, in answer to the yearnings by parents, Mr. President directed that we should look into the possibility of reducing the charges", he concluded.

"Accordingly, from January 2019, JAMB fees will be reduced from N5,000 to N3,500 for the UTME, Senior Secondary Certificate charged by NECO from 11,350 to N9,850 and Basic Education Certificate handled by NECO is reduced from N5,500 to N4,000.

"Like I said, our concern is not to make money with JAMB as such, we are not a revenue generating agency. Since we found that JAMB has been able to bring into government coffers about N15bn, we felt we should reduce the burden on parents."

details would lead to them losing everything to fraudulent people who may take advantage of them or use such information for fraud and other unwholesome activities.

The date for MOCK examination introduced in the 2017 exercise which will also be conducted this year would be announced in due course. It is also worthy of note that all the candidates would be kept abreast of the examination with a view to enlightening them on a hitch free exercise.

The Board commended all the stakeholders particularly the CBT centre operators for their role and contributions to the success of the Board's examinations. It however requested all operators to continue to adhere to the ethics of the Board's examinations as anything contrary to such ethics would attract heavy sanction by the Board.

The Board has suspended over 50 centres from participating in its future examination due to practices that were deemed unacceptable. The Board also declared that it would not hesitate to do same to any centre found wanting before, during and after the examinations.

Maltina Celebrates 2018 Teachers Award in Style

By Ronke Amodu Fadayomi

Recently, the Nigerian Bottling Company (NBC), celebrated its 2018 edition of The Maltina Teachers Award also known as Felix Ohiwerie Education Trust Fund at the Muson Centre, Onikan, Lagos. The event was established in 2015 to identify, showcase and reward outstanding teachers in Nigeria as part of their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).

The yearly event had produced 69 state champions and 3 overall winners between 2015-2017 and has stakeholders from the education sector like Federal and State Ministries of Education, Nigerian Union of Teachers (NUT), All Conference of Principals of Secondary Schools (ANCOPSS), University Dons and all well-meaning Nigerians bought into the initiative, some of whom formed part of the panel of Judges.

The 2018 event was adjudged unique as it has for the first time since its inception received entries from all the 36 states of the federation and the FCT which produced 25 state Champions out of the 37 state entries. The winners all received the sum of Five Hundred Thousand Naira (N500,000:00) each.

Mr. Olasunkanmi Samuel Opeifa, an English Language Teacher from FCT, emerged as 2018 winner for showing enthusiasm in educating the young ones. His victory got him additional one Million Naira (N1,000,000:00) apart from the five hundred thousand naira he won and subsequently will receive one million naira (N1,000,000:00) for the next five years and a block of 6 equipped classrooms for his institution, Government Day Secondary School, Karu. The first runner-up, Olalekan Ademola Adeeko, a Computer Studies Teacher of Baptist Boys High School, Abeokuta, Ogun State, received Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Naira (N750, 000:00) in addition to the Five Hundred Thousand as a State Champion while the second runner-up, Popoola Temitope Samuel, a Physics Teacher with Deeper Life High School, Akure, Ondo State, received additional Five Hundred Thousand Naira (N500,000:00).

The Minister of State for Education, Prof Anthony Anwuka, in his goodwill message at the event, congratulated Nigeria Breweries and Felix Ohiwerie Trust Fund on the laudable initiative, stating that if other similar companies do not follow their example, they should be shown the way out. He lauded the initiators who have also been partnering with the company.

Similarly, the Corps Marshal of the Federal Road Safety Corps, Dr Boboye Oyeyemi, in his goodwill message, promised to increase the support of his organisation to the organizers of the award and teachers in every way possible during the subsequent awards.

The Registrar of the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), Prof. Is-haq Oloyede, who was represented by Mrs. Susan Kaleson Theophilus, an Assistant Chief Administration Officer of the Registrar's Office, in his goodwill message said that the event is laudable as it would not only serve as a platform to reward teachers but will also encourage them to perform better and give their best. He added that teachers' reward should not only be in heaven but also on earth, which is why the Board, through its Policy of 'Inclusiveness of Teachers' has since he assumed office as Registrar ensured teachers' involvement in the Setting, Supervision and Conduct of Examination and other mandatory duties.

WACS Partners JAMB on CBT, Item Generation

By Abdulrahman Akpata

A delegation of the West African College of Surgeons (WACS) from Ghana has visited JAMB to understudy the Board's CBT mode of examination. The Board has been conducting the WACS examination for some time and the delegation wished to understand the technicality of the examination. This visit was to further synergise with JAMB in the conduct of Computer Based Test (CBT) examination regime in the College of Surgeons.

The WACS in her quest to fully transit to electronic based test had an interactive session with the Board on necessary procedures for a seamless transition with all the necessary Faculties in the College.

The technical interactive session which took place at the Psychometrics Department witnessed robust and brainstorming sessions as the regional body was taken through the rudiments of CBT that involved theoretical and practical demonstrations.

The programme, jointly anchored by the Director, Test Administration Department, Dr. Yusuf Lawal, and the Director, Psychometrics Department, Dr. Omokunmi Popoola, also had input from Information Technology Services Department (ITS).

In a remark after the training, the spokesman of the four-man delegation from WACS, Professor Michael Ohene-Yeboh, said, "we are highly impressed with the technical interaction. The presentations were made in simple and assailable form with competent resource persons".

He added, "we have learnt a lot; the training has increased our ability to get better examination that would stand the test of time and in line with global best practices."

Continuing, he said "the CBT would also help curb unwholesome practices such as examination malpractice and unethical behaviour. The training would enhance our competence on how to set good test items and the requirements to set appropriate questions".

Earlier, the Registrar of JAMB, Professor Is-haq Oloyede, took the delegation on a guided facility tour to the Board CBT Centre, Kogo, where they were kept abreast with the requirements and workings of the equipment.

The Registrar told the delegation that there were over 600 CBT Centres (jointly owned by private individuals, and tertiary institutions) nationwide while about 30 of them belong to the Board.

4th Nigeria's Education Conference Held at Sheraton Hotel, Abuja

BY Obinna Pius

The Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), was yet again honoured at the just concluded Fourth (4th) Nigeria's Annual Education Conference organised by the Federal Ministry of Education and sponsored by the British Council, NEIPLUS, World Bank Group, USAID and UKAID, amongst others.

The Hon. Minister of Education, Mallam Adamu Adamu, who was the host while giving the welcome address, thanked the DfID for the support in hosting the conference and expressed the need for emphasis on teachers, the teaching profession and all components of the Education sector.

The US Embassy, represented by Mr. David Young, Deputy Chief of Missions, while delivering a goodwill message recommended that a strong partnership is key to addressing lasting education needs in order to address the numerous challenges confronting it.

President Muhammadu Buhari, ably represented by the Secretary to the Government of the Federation (SGF), Mr. Boss Mustapha, enumerated the achievements of the Buhari-led administration, one of which is the innovations in the conduct of the CBT, and the introduction of CAPS by the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB).

The Registrar, ably represented by an Assistant Chief Administrative Officer, Mrs Susan Theophilus, during the panel sessions said that the innovations by JAMB have helped in placing the Examination Body in good stead in line with global best practices. He hinted on the introduction of another milestone achievement of the Integrated Brochure and Syllabus System (IBASS), which allows for automated Brochure and Syllabus System of each Subject and affords institutions the opportunity to update their course requirements on-line and in real time.

The meeting was later broken into panel sessions and questions were raised about the wrong use of technology by the youth cheating through "419 (yahoo)" and other negative vices. The questions were answered by JAMB that through the use of CCTV during the examinations which shows real time on the dash board in the Headquarter what is happening in all CBT Centres and the use of biometric finger prints which give accurate data about candidates during registration for the UTME, the menace of cheating is being confronted technologically.

JAMB Changes Nomenclature of Legal Officers

By Abdulrahman Akpata

The Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) has changed the nomenclature of lawyers in the Legal Division now a full directorate of the Board from administrative officers to Legal Officers.

The change of cadre and designation was done at the recent Board meeting following the recommendation of the Management to the Board.

The Legal Unit now a directorate was created in January 2006 by the Seventh (7th) Governing Board at its inaugural meeting and staff with requisite qualification, training and experience were immediately deployed to the Division. However, these officers were not discharging the responsibilities expected of legal officers as they could not appear in court for the Board and their progression was also inhibited by this status.

The Board observed that in other parastatal like National Business and Technical Examination Board (NABTEB), National Universities Commission (NUC), National Commission for Colleges of Education all under Federal Ministry of Education designated their lawyers as Legal Officers.

The change of nomenclature was in tandem with section 8 (i) rules of professional conduct for legal practitioners 2007 which states that "A Lawyer, whilst a servant or in a salaried employment of any kind shall not appear as an advocate in a court or judicial tribunal for his employer except where the lawyer is employed as a legal officer in a government department. The Board noted this provision and immediately took action to fully utilize the opportunity of the provision for the staff progression.

With this nomenclature, Administrative officers will now be known as Legal Officers, Senior Administrative Officer will be addressed as Senior Legal Officers etc. The Division is now to be known as a directorate and is presently headed by a Deputy Director, Legal Services.

Given the priority placed on staff progression by the Management and the need for Professionalism and capacity development, the Board without delay approved the proper designation for the lawyers. The change became necessary in order to meet the demand for proper representation in courts and other legal fora.

JAMB to Create More CBT Centres for Candidates with Special Needs

By Ronke Amodu Fadayomi

The Registrar of the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), Prof. Is-haq Oloyede, and his management recently visited the College of Education Special (COE Special) Osun State on a facility tour of the Institution in a bid to secure a viable and standard centre for candidates with special needs across the nation for the conduct of the Board's UTME examination.

The Registrar informed the Provost of the Institution, Prof. Usman Kamoru Olayiwola, and the staff that the Board was planning to bring CBT centres closer to candidates with special needs just like the regular candidates, saying that the Board was working on having CBT centres for candidates with special needs in four (4) to six (6) geopolitical zones of the country if it cannot provide them in all the 36 states of the federation for easy access.

Professor Oloyede said that it was the responsibility of every nation to cater for people with disability, who should be provided with equal opportunity especially in terms of admissions.

He pointed out that a committee had been set up headed by Prof. Peter Okebukola the previous year to holistically address issues concerning people with special needs not only in the area of the conduct of examination but also in their proper absorption terms of admissions, retention and success to ensure that they make use of the education acquired at the end of graduation.

The Provost, who described Prof. Oloyede as a time conscious person, appreciated him and his management team for creating time out of their very busy schedule to visit the institution.

He stated that the visit could only have been borne out of genuine desire to assist candidates with special needs and the Nigerian child as a whole. He assured the Registrar and his team that he would carry out the assignment of identifying standard centres for candidates with special needs in at least four (4) geopolitical zones of the country.

Do not Limit your Vision of Production of Graduates to only your Nation - Prof. Oloyede

By Bridget Magnus

Prof. Is-haq Oloyede, the Registrar of Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), while presenting his paper at the 6th Annual Conference of the West African Universities held at the Universite Cheikh Anta Diop, Dakar, Senegal, has called on all Universities not to limit the vision of their products to only their nations. The Registrar, who delivered a paper on "Trans-Border Education and Research: Quality Assurance Implications for West African Universities," said he had discovered why African universities could not be found in the list of global best institutions.

He said the universities in West Africa should not limit their vision for the production of graduates to only their nations (market) but the entire sub-region.

Prof. Oloyede stated that differences in education system in the region, weaker internal assessment mechanism, superficial external quality assurance system, lack of uniformity in accreditation agencies autonomy and proliferation of institutions are some of the factors responsible for poor quality and weak education system.

He challenged participants at the conference to critically deliberate on the aforementioned issues and possibly offer superior suggestions that would herald significant transformation in the African education system.

Professor Oloyede shared the Nigerian universities' experience, citing the University of Ilorin as an example of keeping with the goal of being a university in its real meaning. He said that against the practice of localizing most universities, the University of Ilorin in Nigeria made a deliberate effort to offer admissions to neighbouring West African countries by creating an opportunity to support eligible students from other countries to undertake higher education. This he said gave the university the international status that the institution is known for today.

He called on all universities in the sub-region to ensure that a certain number of their admission quota is set aside for international students as this will make universities in the sub-region to compete with their peers globally.

He equally reiterated that quality and stronger academic programmes in the universities would attract foreign students.

The Registrar also informed the international community of the Board's capacity to provide professional services to clients in the area of conducting large scale examination.

The conference is an annual event for all universities in West Africa to bring the academics within the West African sub-region together so that people of like minds or in related fields could jointly come up with research proposals and execute same to enable them address the challenges facing the sub-region.

JAMB Records High Patronage in Third Party Examinations in 2018

By Obinna Pius

The Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) has recorded the most third party patronage in 2018 since it started conducting 3rd Party Examinations. This is obviously as a result of the tremendous work done by the Prof. Is-haq Oloyede-led team of the Board. As the popular saying goes "Any good product would sell itself". The Board in the last couple of years has been rejigged and remodelled to meet the 21st Century requirements of a standard international examination body, hence the influx of various organizations, both within and outside the country to secure its services or to learn from its 'modus operandi'.

It is in view of the above that external bodies like the Federal Scholarship Board, Economic and Financial Crimes Commission (EFCC), National Post-Graduate Medical College of Nigeria (NPMCN), West African College of Surgeons (WACS), the Police Service Commission (PSC), the Corporate Affairs Commission (CAC), Nigeria Custom Service (NCS), Federal Road Safety Corps (FRSC), MTN, Medical and Dental Council of Nigeria (MDCN), ABU Distance Learning (MBA Exams) etc have all partnered with the Board in 2018 to secure its services. With all these success stories of transparency, it is expected that more organizations will partner with JAMB in the nearest future.

JAMB Sets Up Committee on Data and Record Management

By Ijeoma Onyekwere

The need for a comprehensive record that covers all candidates from the inception of the Board was the central focus of members during the inauguration of the committee on Data and Record Management in September 2018.

The need for this committee became necessary following the plethora of requests for details of candidates who sat for the Board's examination during the early years.

This became imperative given the need to have quick and easy access to relevant data on candidates' admission, information relating to their results and other relevant documents which are required for admission of candidates as well as necessary statistics concerning the Board as a whole.

The Committee was tasked with creating a framework of identifying and locating the whereabouts of data and records, ensuring that they are valid, kept sacrosanct and easily available when required. They were mandated to advise Management on ways and means to archive the data/records.

The 24-man Committee, headed by a former Registrar of the Board, Dr. Mohammed Sakiwa Abdulrahman, OON, is made up of former directors of the Board and other key stakeholders in the tertiary education sector especially former/serving Registrars, Admission Officers of Universities among other stakeholders.

The Board also approved the promotion of five staff to the position of full directors with effect from 1st January, 2019.

The Registrar of the Board, Prof. Ishaq Olarewaju Oloyede, made the disclosure during a sendoff party organized for retirees recently. The newly promoted directors are Dr. Halilu Bakori Mohammed, formally acting as director, Test Development Department; Mrs. Mabel Agbebaku, acting as director, Special Duties Department; Mr Mufutau Bello, acting director, Finance and Accounts; and Hajia Karimatu Aminu Abubakar, Coordinator of the Kano Zonal Office of the Board. All promoted directors would be assigned departments immediately. Similarly, two staff were also promoted to the position of deputy directors as 280 staff were promoted to other ranks. All promoted staff were admonished to see this promotion as an opportunity to do more for the Board in particular and for the nation at large.

The Board considers promotion as a platform for greater commitment. It believes that this would boost the morale of the promoted staff, and increase their productivity thereby improving upon the overall goal of the Board.
