JAMB THANKS SENATE FOR GIVING IT FAIR HEARING

Sen. Godswill Akpabio, Senate President

The Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) has expressed appreciation to the Senate, particularly the Senate President for vouching for the integrity of the Board. The Registrar, who stated this while giving his remarks at the closing ceremony of the JAMB SERVICOM Customer Service Week, gave a brief background to his statement, when he said, "The successes recorded in this maiden edition of the programme reminded me of an incident that happened on the floor of the Senate last Wednesday. There are some people, to whom if you were to give the whole world would not appreciate it but if you were to give just a little to some, they will appreciate it and God will multiply such for them. This reminds me of what happened on the floor of the Senate, which might appear trivial to some but to me, was very important. A motion was proposed that certain steps should be taken

TEAM BUILDING, A PANACEA FOR ORGANIZATIONAL GROWTH - SERVICOM

In continuation of its programmes of activities lined up to mark the Board's maiden SERVICOM Customer Week, sensitisation talks on the importance and the need for effective Team Building in the workplace as a solution for organisational development were delivered by seasoned professionals during the event.

Kicking off the set sensitisation lectures was the National Head of Operations, SERVICOM Office, Mrs Ngozi Akinbodewa, who, in her lecture titled: "Team Building for Enhanced Service Delivery" described Team Building as the ability to identify and motivate individual employees to form a team that stays together, works together and achieves together.

According to Mrs Akinbodewa, Team Building can be for either problem-solving purposes or cross functional purposes. She stated the four conditions necessary to function as an effective team to include: the group must have a reason for working together; the members of the group must be interdependent and rely on each other's experiences, abilities, and commitment to arrive at mutual goals; group members must be committed to the idea that working together as a team leads to better decisions and outcomes than working independently; and team members must be accountable as a functioning unit within a larger organisational context.

Continuing, she said, as part of measures in building a phenomenal team that stands out, one will require extraordinary approach such as, not settling for mediocrity; picking a thoughtful leader, selecting leaders you can trust and maintaining systemic processes.

Furthermore, Mrs Akinbodewa said the driving force behind building a formidable team in an organisation as JAMB is a diligent effort, which must go through development stages. These stages are: Forming Stage, Norming, Performing and Adjourning stage, among others.

She added the following benefits to ensue that all team members contribute their quotas in team building: better communication, higher efficiency, enhanced commitment, better synergy and shared culture.

Finally, she concluded that a team is not an end itself but rather a means to an end, the purpose of a team is to achieve result. Therefore, performance is the primary driver of teams. For a team to function effectively, the members must have one goal, commitment and ability to accommodate each other's differences and rely on the strength of other team members to succeed.

In another brilliant presentation on Emotional Intelligence, by the National SERVICOM Team Leader C, Mrs Kike Aina, highlighted how employees' emotional state can impact their working attitude whether at the group or individual level. According to her, whether in business or at the home front, people leverage on their emotions to attain improved productivity.

"Being able to identify and recognise emotions, consciously think about them and use them in a logical manner are the main components of emotional intelligence".

"Emotional Intelligence is the ability to sense, understand, and effectively apply the power and acumen of emotions as a source of human energy, information, connection and influence."

She further explained that, certain skills can highly develop people's emotional intelligence, these are: Independence from your own feelings and ability to adjust yourself to them, ability to recognise, name and direct your feelings, use them in positive way, and derive actions from it. Other sub-skills include, how we monitor our own, others feelings, how we discriminate, assess and how we use this knowledge to guide our thinking and actions which is germane to assertiveness, impulse control, adaptability, motivation and optimism.

Continuing, Mrs Aina said, we have two sides of Emotional Intelligence, they are, Personal Competence (how we manage ourselves) and Social Competence (how we handle our relationships with others).

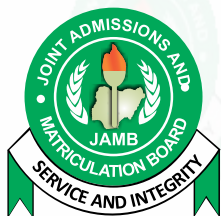

She rolled out the signs of people with Low Emotional Intelligence; these are people, refusing to accept personal responsibility for errors, criticizing other people when they make mistakes, always playing the role of the victim, refusing to accept critical feedback, refusing to integrate with the team, not open to others' opinions.

She enjoined the participants to improve on their Emotional Intelligence via the following fundamental and basic steps: Develop your Emotional Self-Awareness, Take Responsibility for Your Actions and Feelings, Remember You Are Not Your Emotions, Put Yourself In The Other Person's Shoes, Get Some Distance From The Bad Stuff.

On a final note, Mrs Aina stated that being knowledgeable about emotions means that we can perceive and use emotions to create optimal relationships and produce desired outcomes for the betterment of all.

Mrs Kike Aina, the National SERVICOM Team Leader C, delivering her lecture on Emotional Intelligence.

...SERVICOM CUSTOMER SERVICE WEEK: JAMB Registrar, Others Honoured

his gratitude to her for being a part of the epoch-making event. In the same vein, he commended Mrs. Ngozi Egbuna for being resolute in her avowed commitment to excellent service delivery.

"I must thank you at SERVICOM for all the efforts put in place to ensure that candidates receive needed services".

"Let me thank all of you as well as urge you to adhere to your commitment to integrity and quality service delivery.

The SERVICOM Unit Appreciation Award was presented to the Registrar in recognition of his unwavering commitment to effective service delivery, and to the SERVICOM National Coordinator, it was in recognition of her outstanding humanitarian service to the nation, while to the Director, ITS, it was on account of his being the most supportive Director in service delivery.

slated for the closing ceremony of the maiden edition of the JAMB SERVICOM Customer Service Week. Presenting the Award to the Registrar the JAMB NASU Chairman, Comrade Andrew Onakpa, said that it is in recognition of the sterling performance of the Registrar in terms of service delivery that facilitated the award. He noted that the award is not only for the Registrar but is also for the entire JAMB family as a whole.

While speaking on behalf of the recipients, Mrs. Akajiemeli said, "If you are doing something and you see people by your side to support you, it means, you are doing the right thing. You have encouraged us, we shall continue to do good and I encourage my fellow awardees to continue to do more."

Furthermore, she also charged the JAMB SERVICOM Nodal Officer, Mrs. Ngozi Egbuna, to ensure that in subsequent events, more members of staff, particularly those on the lower rungs, are also recognised and accorded honours.

In his remarks, the Registrar expressed appreciation to the SERVICOM National Coordinator for showing the Board's SERVICOM Unit the path to follow. He also expressed

JAMB PROHIBITS STAFF FROM EATING IN THE OFFICE

As part of efforts aimed at checking the influx of rodents into its facilities, the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) has warned staff to desist from eating in their various offices.

According to a statement issued by its management, the Board is dismayed that in spite of the series of advisories issued on this matter, staff have flagrantly refused to comply with the directives.

This latest warning may not be unconnected with the protracted failure recorded in the use of pesticides while noting that the rodents had almost taken over the entire office space.

In a final warning signed by the Director of Human Resources, Mr. Muhammed Shehu, which reads in parts: "management has observed with dismay that despite several warnings some staff at the National Headquarters, Zonal and State Offices have continued to eat in their offices thereby attracting rodents and causing serious damage to equipment and other items."

The statement warned that stiffer penalties await staff, who disobeyed this directive while charging Directors and State Coordinator to ensure compliance with the directive.

...Gross Disregard for the Board's Mandate Unacceptable - Oloyede

This came after it was observed that some institutions matriculated students during the 2021 and 2022 academic years before sending their matriculation notification to the Board as against the stipulated two-week prior written notification to the Board before the ceremony.

Article 18.6.1 of the 2023 Guidelines on Admission states that, "The Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), National Universities Commission (NUC), National Board for Technical Education (NBTE) and National Commission for Colleges of Education (NCCE), must all be informed and invited not later than two weeks before matriculation ceremony, through the CAPS mail (as applicable to the institution)."

According to the Registrar, despite being aware of the above provision of the law, some institutions still proceeded to matriculate students without properly informing the Board, which was charged with the responsibility of analyzing the matriculation list and offering appropriate advice on whether the ceremony should be postponed or continued as planned.

"Gross disregard for the Board's mandate is unacceptable, and henceforth, any erring institution will be sanctioned accordingly and violators will be published in the Board's weekly Bulletin in line with the 2023 Guidelines on Admissions."

"JAMB would continue to forward the analysis of matriculation lists to the institutions, for them to properly appraise the level of compliance or violations as late invitation to the matriculation ceremony would not be entertained," he said.

Earlier, the Registrar expressed appreciation to the Desk Officers for upholding the Board's image and integrity. He cited a scenario on the floor of the Senate during plenary on 8th November, 2023, where the Board was accused of complicity in admission racketeering with the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, by the Senator representing Ebonyi North, Sen. Nwebonyi Onyeka Peter, prompting the Senate President, Prof. Is-haq Oloyede, Registrar JAMB.

Ahead of the upcoming 2024 Unified Tertiary Matriculation Examination (UTME) and in the spirit of the 2023 JAMB SERVICOM Week, Mrs. Gladys Ibrahim, the Principal of Federal Government Girls' College, Bwari, Abuja, has restated her commitment to maintaining an excellent record devoid of examination malpractice throughout her tenure.

Mrs. Ibrahim conveyed her stance while delivering her goodwill message at the opening ceremony of the 2023 JAMB SERVICOM Week, held from Monday, 6th November to Friday, 10th November, 2023.

While underscoring the importance of teamwork and quality service for any institution to thrive, Mrs. Ibrahim commended the leadership of Prof. Is-haq Oloyede, while noting his integrity, professionalism, and commitment to ethical practices and urged everyone to emulate these traits to achieve excellence in service delivery.

"You have a good leader, who is not only a man of integrity but is also a thoroughbred professional, who has the fear of God in all that he is doing. I urge you all to give him all the support he requires to keep up the good work," she said.

Mrs. Ibrahim commended the staff of the Board for their passion and dedication to their responsibilities, while drawing parallels between their commitment and the result-driven approach of the Registrar.

Furthermore, Mrs Ibrahim commended the Board for its rigorous checks to ensure that only qualified candidates are admitted into tertiary institutions. She also enjoined other stakeholders in the education sector to follow suit and strive for the best by not bending the rules for anyone, among other measures.

On a final note, Mrs. Ibrahim reaffirms her commitment to fostering an environment of integrity and excellence within the Federal Government Girls' College, Bwari, as the school prepares for the 2024 UTME.

Nigeria Post-secondary Education Data System (NIPEDS)

Following the enormity of the challenges associated with the A 'level qualifications and stakeholders determined efforts to address them, an A 'level bank was instituted under the chairmanship of the former Vice-Chancellor of Bayero University, Kano, Prof Muhammad Yahuza Bello. The Data Bank has now been renamed "Nigeria Post-secondary Education Data System (NIPEDS)".

The conversion to NIPEDS is to streamline the functions of the A 'level bank in line with international standard thereby bringing total sanity to the entire process of A 'level qualifications that has been fraudulently manipulated by some candidates to gain undue advantage in securing admission into Year Two of the University Degree programmes.

about what was perceived to be a connivance between JAMB and some institutions on the issue of admission racketeering. This was hardly flattering but sometimes, what appears to be negative, if thoroughly looked into, may turn out to have some positivity in it as the Senate President stood in defense of JAMB, saying, "JAMB must be heard, because JAMB has integrity." We must, therefore, thank the Senate President, in particular, and the Senate in general for taking that course of action. We thank them sincerely for giving us the opportunity to be heard. For that, I feel very proud of JAMB and those who are working in JAMB."

"However, JAMB will fully cooperate with the Senate to ensure that perpetrators, whosoever they are receive appropriate sanction, we will continue to do our best to ensure that the confidence reposed in us by the nation is not compromised in any way as we will continue to make the nation proud."

Findings from the Board's preliminary investigations showed clearly that no staff of the Board was in any way involved in the reported admission irregularities.

Furthermore, the Registrar had recalled that the Board, on discovering some of the abnormalities, had insisted that the right thing must be done by the institutions involved by ensuring that all high-scoring candidates topping their merit list must be admitted into their programmes of choice. He noted that it was during the process of oversight that the Board discovered that many of the candidates parading themselves as high scorers did not meet the requirements to be admitted on merit. He stated that this was the main reason they had gone through illegal routes to secure their backdoor admissions. According to him, all students know that any admission letter that did not emanate from JAMB is not a letter of admission but a "Letter of Deception".

The Registrar expressed confidence that the Board's mediation between the institution and the candidate would be greatly appreciated at the end of the investigation as the candidates had complicated their matter by accepting admissions through illegal channels even as he added that he who comes to equity must come with clean hands.

He concluded by thanking all staff of the Board for their commitment, integrity and quality service delivery.

THE CRUSADE TO SANITISE THE EDUCATION SECTOR IS ON ALL OF US – OGUN EDUCATION COMMISSIONER

The Ogun State Commissioner of Education, Science and Technology, Prof. Abayomi Arigbabu, has announced that the campaign to sanitise the education sector is the responsibility of every citizen and not just that of educators.

The Commissioner made this declaration during the courtesy visit of the SERVICOM/PR Unit to his office on Monday, 6th November, 2023, as part of activities to mark the maiden edition of the Board's Customers' Service Week.

In her remarks, the Head of the SERVICOM/PR Unit, Ms. Abiola Adekunle, said one of the activities of the Board during this week-long event was to conduct series of sensitisation outreach in various secondary schools nationwide with the aim of sensitizing students on the steps they need to take in order to properly register for the 2024 UTME.

According to her, the Board has discovered that most of the mistakes made by candidates during registration stems from the mismatch of their data pulled from the National Identity Management Commission (NIMC). She explained that there is a need to supply accurate information at the point of their NIN enrolment. She identified some of the errors to include: wrong subject combination, use of henna, which makes it difficult to capture their fingers, and failure to upload O'level results, among others. She said another forum to sensitize stakeholders in the State on the steps to take before registering for the UTME with the help of the Commissioner would be appreciated.

In his remarks, the Commissioner expressed happiness with the Board's desire to sensitise the students of the State, whom he sees as prospective UTME candidates, adding that the outreach was a veritable means of enlightening students on the Board's processes from registration to admission into tertiary institutions.

Prof. Arigbabu commended the Registrar, JAMB, Prof. Is-haq Oloyede, for his laudable efforts at sanitizing and improving the education system, especially with regard to the UTME registration process as well as the admission process. He disclosed that the system now ensures that even the child of a nobody gains admission on merit while ensuring that malpractices, in terms of name manipulation and impersonation are curbed. He also noted that the digitalization of IBASS has also improved access to brochures and syllabi such that candidates know what subjects they require to study their preferred course.

"It is my hope that this year's JAMB SERVICOM sensitization exercise would help reduce errors made by candidates out of ignorance."

"Ogun State has an identification system for its learners in the State known as the Learner Identification Number (LIN) so there is no duplication of learners, especially for people with popular names. All schools recognized by the State have their learners registered and students not registered are those who are not yet in primary school," he disclosed.

The week-long 2023 JAMB SERVICOM Customer Service Week, was celebrated in all the Board's offices nationwide.

that may negatively affect them in future.

This sensitization was replicated in all JAMB State and Zonal Offices nationwide during the five-day event.

It would be recalled that the 2023 Customers Service Week with the theme "Team Service" was celebrated worldwide from 2nd to 6th October, 2023, but the Board could not participate in the exercise then on account of some prior engagements, and as such, set aside Monday, 6th to Friday, 9th

November, 2023, for the celebration of the event.

In her address during the sensitization programme, the JAMB SERVICOM Nodal Officer, Mrs. Ngozi Egbuna, took the audience through the required procedures for the coming 2024 UTME registration exercise.

According to her, UTME candidates must first generate a profile code by sending NIN (leave a single space), followed by the eleven digits of their National Identification Numbers to either of the sort codes: 55019 or 66019. According to her, once the profile code is generated, the candidate's biodata would be retrieved from the National Identification Management Commission (NIMC) portal and the code becomes the immutable and unique identity of the candidate on the JAMB portal.

Furthermore, Mrs. Egbuna revealed that as soon as a profile code is successfully generated, the candidate would proceed to any JAMB approved Computer-Based Test (CBT) centre, where he would be required to vend an e-PIN to be registered.

In her speech, the JAMB SERVICOM Head admonished candidates to do all necessary corrections with NIMC early enough, and confirm that the changes have been effected to their satisfaction before embarking on the registration exercise, reiterating that any irregularities in names, date of birth, gender, state of origin cannot be changed after registration.

Mrs. Egbuna further charged candidates to ensure that their details with the NIMC tally with the ones given to JAMB and are those, which are reflected in their O' level results, stating that any disparity in the details would affect their mobilization for the compulsory one-year national youth service.

In her concluding remarks, Egbuna enjoined candidates to desist from applying substances such as abrasives and henna on their hands as such might distort the whorls of their fingers resulting in difficulty at biometric verification during registration.

Among the secondary schools visited in Abuja during the exercise were: Government Secondary School, Kuduru; Government Day Secondary School, Dutse; Government Girls Secondary School, Dutse; Total Child Model School, Dutse; Metro International Secondary School, Kubwa; Federal Government Girls College, Bwari; Excellent Kiddies Academy, Bwari; Valid Crown International College, Bwari; among others.

In another development, JAMB SERVICOM, Ibadan Zonal Office, took its advocacy to selected senior secondary schools and Computer-Based Test (CBT) centres in Oyo State. The schools visited included: Global Academic Trends, Urban Day Grammar School, Old Ife Road, Ibadan; Community High School, Old Ife Road, Ibadan; Bishop Philips Academy, Ibadan; Ikolaba Grammar Schools 1 & 2, Ibadan; Islamic High School, Ibadan; Baptist High School, Igboho; Ifelodun Grammar School; Igboho.

In the same vein, the team also visited various CBT centres across the State to educate their personnel on the demands of professional service delivery and the place of JAMB as a regulator, which frowns at illegal practices, extortion and examination malpractices.

In their various responses, members of staff of PEFTI CBT Centre, Ibadan; Hismay CBT Centre, Ibadan; and Queen's Vee CBT Centre, Ibadan, among others, expressed appreciation for the thoughtfulness of the Board for the Enlightenment programme, which according to them, would reduce avoidable problems emanating through carelessness during registration.

Similarly in Ado-Ekiti, the Ekiti State Commissioner for Education, Dr. Olabimpe Aderiye, who was represented by the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Education, Mr. Michael Omolayo, commended JAMB for the initiative and called for the sustainability of the sensitization programme, adding that the burden of missing out on admission on account of wrong data input by prospective candidates would gradually be a thing of the past.

In his remarks, the Ekiti State Tutor-General, Prince Victor Amele, also noted that he was once a victim of wrong subjects combination, which denied him admission to study a course of his choice.

The maiden edition of the Board's Customer Service Week would long be remembered as it provided a window of opportunity for the Board to connect and collaborate with partners for more efficient service delivery.
