STEAM WORKSHOP: INTERDISCIPLINARY LEARNING IS THE GOAL – OLOYEDE

The JAMB Registrar, Prof. Is-haq Oloyede and the Deputy Registrar (Senate, Admissions and Affiliated Institutions) University of Ibadan, Mrs Stella O. Soala during the Registrar's visit to the University of Ibadan

The Registrar of the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) PROF. Is-haq Oloyede, has stated that the Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Mathematics (STEAM) education model is a tool for promoting interdisciplinary learning by students.

The Registrar stated this on Tuesday, 7th November, 2023, during a policy review workshop with the theme: "Strengthening the educational system in Nigeria through STEAM."

The objectives of the workshop organised by the Nigeria Academy of Science (NAS), Nigeria Academy of Letters (NAL) and the Nigerian Young Academy (NYA) and sponsored by JAMB are to review key policies aimed at encouraging STEAM education and discussing strategies for their implementation.

According to the Registrar, the STEAM education mode has the capacity to break down those traditional silos of learning into

BAIL APPLICATION: THREE UTME REGISTRATION OFFENDERS SUFFER SETBACK

...As Court Issues Production Warrant on Correctional Centre

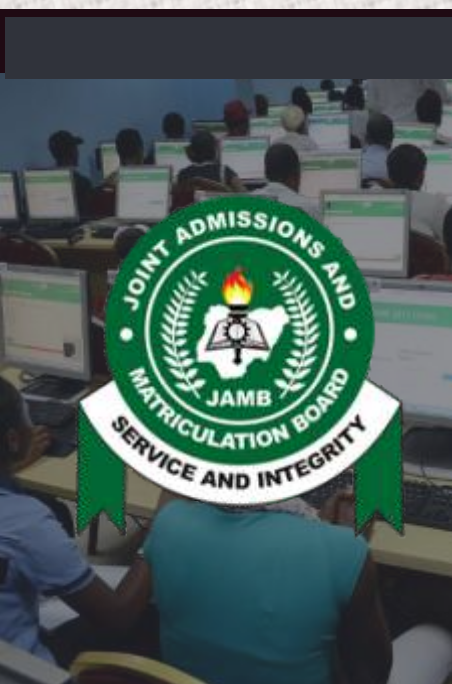

The bail application for three suspects, who were apprehended during the 2023 UTME for registration infractions, and who were facing trial at the Federal High Court, Akure, Ondo State, has suffered another setback following the failure of the officials of the Nigeria Correctional Centre (NCC), Olokuta, Akure, to produce them in court.

When the matter came up for hearing on Monday, 13th November, 2023, for trial, the prosecuting counsels, M.I Osimen and T.O Badegbo, informed the court of their readiness for the trial as they had come with two witnesses.

The reason canvassed by the Correctional Centre officials was that they had thought that the proposed strike by the Nigeria Labour Congress which science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics subjects had been allotted.

Prof. Oloyede pointed out that by integrating these disciplines, students would be on the path to developing a holistic understanding of real-world problems and learn to approach them from multiple perspectives.

"STEAM education encourages students to think creatively, explore new ideas, and develop innovative solutions. By incorporating arts and design principles into STEAM education, students are encouraged to think outside the box and develop their creative potential."

"STEAM education emphasizes the development of critical thinking skills, enabling students to analyze complex problems, evaluate evidence, and make informed decisions. It also focuses on problem-solving skills, equipping students with the ability to apply scientific and mathematical concepts to practical situations," he said.

He noted that STEAM education would enhance digital literacy and technological proficiency, which includes proficiency in using digital tools, programming languages, and understanding emerging technologies while it also emphasizes collaborative learning and teamwork. Additionally, he noted that students are encouraged to work together on projects, fostering effective communication, cooperation, and the ability to work in diverse teams.

Similarly, in his presentation, a visiting Professor of History, Prof. Olutayo Adesina, averred that the infusion of Arts or (humanities) subjects are critical and central to human progress.

He said the field has its special and indispensable contributions to national development while urging government to fund the disciplines adequately to equip them to meet the challenges of the 21st century.

He said, "The field should partner with STEAM to ensure a more intensive and focused growth of the Nigerian society. There is the need for a robust conversation to synergise on how the different disciplines can be integrated to ensure the development of this country. We have been left behind by countries such as China, India, Singapore, Indonesia, and Malaysia. Nigeria cannot afford to be rotating on the same spot."

Earlier, the President of NAL, Prof. Sola Akinrinade, pointed out that STEAM education encourages innovation, reduces poverty, and provides beneficiaries with the appropriate tools to improve their lives and those of others.

He said that if we are going to achieve our objectives of building a knowledge-based economy through STEAM education, "then we cannot discount the importance of proper policy planning."

Akinrinade lamented the declining quality of applicants gaining admission into Nigerian universities while attributing the situation to poor implementation and failure to enforce capacity standards with respect to the quality of students seeking university admission, among others.

Nigeria Post-secondary Education Data System (NIPEDS)

Following the enormity of the challenges associated with the A 'level qualifications and stakeholders determined efforts to address them, an A 'level bank was instituted under the chairmanship of the former Vice-Chancellor of Bayero University, Kano, Prof Muhammad Yahuza Bello. The Data Bank has now been renamed "Nigeria Post-secondary Education Data System (NIPEDS)".

The conversion to NIPEDS is to streamline the functions of the A 'level bank in line with international standard thereby bringing total sanity to the entire process of A 'level qualifications that has been fraudulently manipulated by some candidates to gain undue advantage in securing admission into Year Two of the University Degree programmes.

JAMB PARTNERS NTA FOR SEAMLESS 2024 UTME REGISTRATION

As part of efforts to continuously engage the public on the fast-approaching 2024 UTME registration exercise, the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), Ekiti State Office, and Nigerian Television Authority (NTA) have entered into a partnership that will ensure the Board's programmes and services are given ample publicity.

The State Coordinator, Mr. Hassan Lawal, who disclosed this during a courtesy visit to the Television House, Ado-Ekiti, solicited the assistance of the media house to reach out to prospective candidates so as to sensitise them on the registration process. He noted the eminent role that NTA had been playing over the years and solicited the continuation of the same.

According to Mr. Lawal, the strengthening of the existing synergy would translate to improved a seamless UTME registration exercise.

In his remarks, the General Manager, NTA, Ado-Ekiti, Mr. Segun Ojelade, urged JAMB to continue to take advantage of the nationwide reach of the station to reach even the remotest parts of the country. In the same vein, he assured the Board of the readiness of the premier television house to continue to partner with the Board in all its operational processes.

Mr. Ojelade further encouraged the Board to always intimate the station of all its programmes and activities stating that the media house would not hesitate in scaling up such coverage to national and international platforms for unparalleled reach.

BENUE STATE COORDINATOR TASKS NEWLY - MATRICULATED ON ACADEMIC PURSUIT

The Coordinator of the Benue State Office, Dr. Titus Lemut, has charged the newly-matriculated students of the Federal Polytechnic, Wannune, Benue State, to be diligent and dedicated to their course of study.

Dr. Lemut made this charge in his congratulatory message to the students during the maiden matriculation ceremony of the institution on Friday, 10th November, 2023.

forms of examination malpractice. In his words, "The efforts you put in today will determine the success of your academic journey."

He charged them to imbibe the attributes of their Rector and see him as a role model in their pursuit of academic qualifications and described polytechnic education as one that specialises in skill acquisition, among others.

...BAIL APPLICATION: Three UTME Registration Offenders Suffer Setback

would commence on Monday, 13th November, 2023.

The counsels to the defendants, Clement Falana and Austin Agbounghale, expressed their frustration over the failure of the officials of the correctional centre to produce their clients in court despite spending over six months in custody. The counsels pleaded with the court to hear the pending bail application even in the absence of their clients as they drew the attention of the court to the provision of the law, which stipulated bail for their defendants as their offences were bailable even without their presence in court.

However, the Presiding Judge, Justice T. B. Adegoke, said the date of hearing was communicated to all the parties and if there were changes in date, the court would have informed the litigants through their common WhatsApp platform, which, among other channels, also serves as a veritable information-sharing platform for Federal High Court lawyers.

Justice T. B. Adegoke, therefore, adjourned the case to 7th December, 2023, for ruling on the bail application for the defendants.

In addition, Justice Adegoke mandated that a production warrant be issued to the Nigeria Correctional Centre, Olokuta, Akure, mandating it to produce the defendants in court to enable them attend their trial.

Meanwhile, the relatives of the defendants broke down in tears when the judge announced the adjournment of the case as they had been in prison custody since 24th May, 2023.
