One of the common features of most enterprises in Nigeria is their inability to sustain the transformational strides they had attained at inception.

This is, however, not the case with the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) which, under the present leadership, had leveraged on the legacies of past administrations to catapult the Board to even more enviable heights.

As an illustration, towards the end of last year, close to twenty mega projects costing billions of naira were completed and commissioned for use while the few under construction were completed early this year.

SUSTAINING THE TRANSFORMATIONAL STRIDES IN JAMB

...JAMB Massive Capital Projects

Given the avalanche of projects completed, with some executed in conjunction with the Nigerian Communications Commission (NCC), one would have thought that, going forward, the Board would be financially spent and would not be able to embark on any further projects especially given its consistent remittances to the Federal Government coffers, but that was not to be.

As 2021 comes to an end, JAMBULLETIN took stock of some ongoing projects being undertaken by the Board and concluded that, indeed, there is nothing that prudent management of resources cannot engender as the quantum of completed and ongoing projects attested to.

It is to be noted that this success story is borne out of the belief that much could be achieved irrespective of resources available once the will to do the right thing is there. The result is the many mega Computer-Based Test centres that keep springing up across the country on a scale that is unimaginable some years ago. This is being done in tandem with the construction and rehabilitation of office accommodation for staff in line with the belief that the provision of a conducive working environment is a sine qua non for improved service delivery.

It is also worthy of note that apart from those projects being graciously executed by the Nigerian Communications Commission (NCC), many Professional Test Centres (PTCs) and offices are being financed from the surplus approved for the Board by the government to finance its operations.

Furthermore, the impact being created by the institution of the National Tertiary Admissions Performance Merit Award (NATAP-M Award) cannot be quantified. For instance, the maiden edition of the NATAP-M Awards, which was based on 2018 Admission performance, was held in 2019 and saw the winners, University of Ilorin, University of Maiduguri, Ahmadu Bello University, Zaria, Rivers State University and Kaduna Polytechnic, using the prize money to establish radio stations on their campuses.

The 2020 Edition, which recorded a 150% rise in the prize money, saw a corresponding impact in terms of the projects executed by the winning institutions. The edition, which was predicated on the 2019 Admission performance, also saw the emergence of winners in the various categories. For instance, the University of Ilorin, won for being the Most-subscribed Institution by Candidates; ABU, Zaria, won for being the Most-National Institution in terms of Admission Spread while the Federal University, Wukari, emerged the Most-Improved Institution in Intake of Female Students.

Others are the University of Ilorin for being the Institution with the Highest Number of Admissions of International Students. Therefore, the University of Ilorin won in two categories, while the Ogun State Institute of Technology, Igbesa, won in that of the Most-Compliant Institution in keeping within the Guidelines, Rules and Regulations of Admissions.

These institutions were given the prize money of 75million naira each and their expressed determination to productively utilise the prize money testified to their desire to address the infrastructural needs of their respective institutions.

NO EVIDENCE OF FULL VACCINATION NO ENTRY TO OUR FACILITIES - JAMB

In line with the extant protocols rolled out by the Nigeria Centre for Disease Control (NCDC), the Joint Admissions has resolved that no staff and visitors alike would be allowed entry into its offices nationwide without evidence of full vaccination.

In line with this entry protocol, staff and visitors or clients are to present acceptable evidence which is: COVID-19 Vaccination Card, any identification card connecting the holder to the vaccination card, preferably the National Identity Card; Driver's License or International Passport. This stipulation is to ensure, among others, that staff or visitors do not present vaccination cards that belong to other individuals.

From available statistics from relevant agencies, the virus is spreading like wildfire, hence the clarion call for all to be vigilant, observe all protocols, and for institutions, be it public or private, to adopt relevant protocols to nip the spread of the virus in the bud.

As a proactive agency, the Board is adopting this protocol in the light of its heightened preparations for the commencement of the 2022 UTME/DE Registration exercise.

We implore all not to be lulled into a false sense of security as pertains to the COVID-19 pandemic as the increasingly dangerous dimension the virus is assuming should be a source of concern to all especially with the emergence of a more-virulent Omicron variant.

In addition, the Board enjoins all to adhere strictly to all the stipulated non-pharmaceutical protocols and guidelines enlaced to mitigate the spread of the virus.

JAMB TRAINS STAFF ON ITS CORE MANDATE

It is to be recalled that as part of efforts to ensure that members of staff of the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB) are in tune with the core operations of the Board particularly in the areas of registration, admission to tertiary institutions and other essential components of the Board's mandate, Management had directed all State Coordinators of the Board to organise a refresher training workshop to acquaint their staff with the step-by-step operational processes of the Board.

The refresher training, anchored by the various State Coordinators nationwide in their various offices, was designed to update their staff on the series of innovations and advisories by the Board.

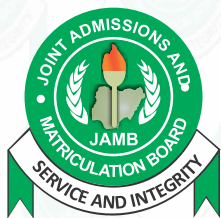

The refresher training, which is going to be a routine exercise in the Board's Outstations, will enhance the efficiency of staff and improve service delivery as well as develop a well-informed workforce that can confidently educate and guide clients on all enquiries made.

Given the Board's penchant for due process, all Coordinators were subsequently directed to submit all the training modules used for the refresher training to the key Director in charge of outstation affairs to ensure that the various training modules aligned with the expectations of Management. It would be recalled that some gaps in knowledge had been noticed during the just-concluded end-of-year staff performance review as well as the performance of staff during the 2021 Promotion Examination.

Most of the modules submitted dwelled on the step-by-step approach to seeking admission into tertiary institutions by prospective candidates be it full time, part-time, sandwich etc.

KADUNA STANDS STILL AS MUYE WEDS AEESHA

The groom clad in white agbada and friends

It was moments of nuptial bliss at the ancient city of Kaduna when Mr. Ahmad Muhammad Muye and Miss Aesha Muhammad Barry were joined in holy matrimony.

The ancient State was agog for these two love birds as their marriage (Nikkah) ceremony was held on Friday, 24th December, 2021, at Masalancin Mallam Muhammad Nasir Kabala Road, Kaduna.

Mr. Muye, works with the Registrar, Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB ), Prof. Is-haq Oloyede.

Performing the marriage ceremony, the Chief Imam of the mosque, Sheikh Muhammad Awwal, after obtaining the consent of both families to join the pair, said Islam recognises matrimony and accepts it as the basis of human society and advocated that, it should, however, be wished devoid of the many unwelcome innovations ostentatious display of wealth which have characterised the institution in recent times.

Continuing, Sheikh Awwal said Islam does not regard marriage as a union entered into with the sole aim of gratification of sexual lust, but rather a social contract between both parties with varied responsibilities and duties.

He also stated that a woman should not be a plaything in the hands of man, but should rather be regarded as a spiritual and moral being who has been entrusted to him on the basis of the sacred pledge entered into that day and to which Allah is a witness.

The wife, he said was, therefore, not meant to provide only sensuous pleasure to the man but to fully cooperate with him in making his life and that of his family and ultimately that of the whole of humanity easy.

Quoting copiously from the Holy Qur'an, Sheikh Awwal enjoined the couple to put God first in all their dealings, be patient, tolerant and allow love and affection to be guiding principles as they have become an indivisible entity.

Guests from NSCDC, JAMB, friends and family members of the couples graced the occasion and were treated to sumptuous fares shortly after the event.
